MORNINGLEADER

SATURDAY MORNING NOV. 21, 1863.

General Tuttle, of Iowa, the late Copperhead Governor of the State, has tendered and return home as soon as it is accepted. General Tuttle was a brave General, and a staunch War Democrat, till in a fatal more ment of misguided ambition he yielded to the seductions of the serpentine tempter, and was betrayed into the acceptance of the Copperhead nomination for Gevernor. He thought he could succeed on the strength of his military reputation and merit. But the soldiers and the people lost confidence the moment he lent himself to the base the compensation. It is impossible to handle pitch and not be defied. General Tuttle was a brave General, and a uses of the Copperhead faction. It is impossible to handle pitch and not be defiled. It is impossible to addition and not be defiled. It is impossible to addition to the defiled it is the discovery time of our country. And every link of National Union is a bond of iron, binding together East and West, North and South. This Atlantic and Great Western Hailway is one of the miraculous achievements of our age and country. With the Ecis Railroad it brings as it foot gange—old Abe's longth exactly (laughter) from the Atlantic to Ohio. But what is a railroad worth which terminates east of Illinois? (Laughter and applause) Our State is covered all over with glory from the nehievements of our soldiers in the field. In every gave him her confidence, and bestowed gave him her confidence, and bestowed upon him a high military trust. Thus andly does Copperheadism destroy a man, and leave him neutralized and stultified

Refusing Colored Volunteers. Governor Seymour, of New York, 44stinately refuses to grant authorizations to raise colored troops in that State, expressing la decisive terms his "disapproval of the system of raising negro regiments to aid in putting down the rebellion, both as a matter of principle and policy." That is just what the Louisville Journal, the organ of the fanatical Kentucky elaveholders says. The result will be several thousand colored volunteers will be drawn from New York, to swell she quotas of other States, while just so many nore white men will be required of New York. The younger woman recovered her senses and crawled to a neighbor's house, and the entire neighborheod was soon aroused. Mr Goeway was found to be frightfully in-jured, and the bed upon which he was lying was a mass of gore. His aged mother was also senseless. Intense excitement prevailed in Troy on Sunday, and every effort was made for the detection of the criminals. The Times, which gives a full account of the strocious affair, notices the arrest of a desperado known to the police as "the worst man in Troy," and a de-serter from the army. The evidence of

CLEVELAND, SATURDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 21,

Speech of Governor Tates, of Illinois, at the Fratival of the Atlantic and threat Western Rallwar. In our report of the proceedings of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Celebration, we were forced by the pressure of mattor on our culumns to omit a full report of the speech of Governor Yates, of Illinois, in response to a tonat to his health. The speech, though an impromptu one, for the Governor had decided, on account of the lateness of The Refusal of Rations Explained. the hour, not to deliver a longer and more carefully prepaged speech, was full of fire and force, and so favorably impressed all who heard it, that we were yesterday frequently requested to give it a place in our columns, his resignation, and will leave the army and have accordingly prepared as full a report of it as our imperfect notes would allow.

Governor Yates remarked that he had conments of our soliders in the field. In every is battle it has been made illustrious by the gallarry of its sons. Yes, if God ever made better soldiers than those of Ohlo, Indians, Pennsylvania and New York, you will have to go to Hilmeis to look for them. (Applausa, and though the Governors of other States may be more talented and learned than the Governor of Hilmeis, they cannot, thank Heaven, be more patriotic. This six foot track must come all the way through to Hilmeis. We must have it in order to carry our corn and beef and pork along to the Atlantic.

And then, too, should there be a difficulty on your lakes—such a one as recently alarmed you so, when kindly communicated to you by the Governor thoreral of Canada and Lord Lyons, we want to send twenty thousand of an brave Hilmeis beys right up to Cleveland.
